Arizona Special to Florida Everglades

Special excursion from Arizona to the Florida Everglades, leaves Douglas February 17. A solid through trip—no change of cars—no waiting for connections—no missing of connections—congenial company. It is because we are anxious and willing to prove the Everglades to be all that the great expert claim for them, that we court scrutiny and lavish investigation. Every far-sighted investor who fairly investigates them, goes back a staunch and loyal booster. Plan to take this outing—the trip of a lifetime. The trip is a liberal education in itself and replete with delightful surprises.

Benson Prisoners Make Escape From Branch Jail by Climbing Through Roof

Advice were received at the sheriff's office today of the escape from the Benson jail last night of three prisoners that had been confined there on a charge of breaking into a box car. The men were caught yesterday with several sacks of sugar, flour, etc., that they had taken out of one of the cars in the yards at Benson and were locked up in the jail last evening pending an examination that was to be held today. When the deputy sheriff went down to the jail this morning he found that his prisoners had gone without waiting to bid him a farewell. The men, during the night piled the bedding in the jail into one of the corners and then holding one of the iron muzzles to the ceiling succeeded in tearing a part of the tin away, making a hole in the roof and made their escape. Officers throughout the county have been furnished with a description of the men and hopes are entertained for their capture.
